

Supported Education

2.1 Introduction

What is Supported Education?

Supported Education is an individualized instruction and support program which assists (young) people with psychiatric disabilities to obtain educational goals. The goal of these services is to help participants choose, get and keep enrollment in an educational or vocational training program of their choice. Supported Education is not therapy or mental health counseling.

What is the Choose-Get-Keep intervention?

The goal of choosing is to select an educational or training program compatible with the participant's values, skills and learning needs. The goal of getting is to secure admission to a preferred educational and vocational training program. The goal of keeping is to remain at school and increase student success and satisfaction through development of participant skills and support.
